LOCALS ONE RUN TO GOOD

SCORE REVERTED TO EIGHTH, WITH SEATTLE AHEAD.

Jupiter Pluvius and D. E. Dugdale Jupiter Pluvius and D. E. Dugdale proved a stronger combination than the nine ball players that represent this town and as a result yesterday's game went to the mud hens who hail from a foreign seaport known on the map as Seattle. It seems strange that this town can get along without rain entil Dugdale and his hirelings come stange there is the property than the property of the p anti Dugdale and his hirelings come along, then just because they are used to frequent shower baths, the weather man butts into the game and proves himself a knocker to the local team by taking the game away from them.

After eight innings of the hardest kind of a mud plugging contest the end of the eight by a score of 7 to 5.

James Wiggs, Esq., Goes Wrong.

James Wiggs, Esq., the elongated pitcher for the locals, officiated at the opening of the game. He started off well and for a time it did really look bad for Dugdale and his crowd. In the third they managed to get one man in by a lucky hitting streak and a bad error of Anderson's at home plate. But Jimmy only smiled, that knowing one he has, and the local fans did not feel badly.

In the fourth, however, James went to the bad and went fast. After two hits, had been taken away from by Spencer and Bath.

Wiggs was wild and allowed all three of them to walk, forcing in two runs. However, in justice to Wiggs it must be said that in one case Huston's weather eye was away to the bad and Wiggs had his man struck out fairly. The fifth rolled around without any damage, and then came the sixth and the end of Mr. Wiggs. Two more the sixth and the end of Mr. Wiggs. Two more Wiggs had his man struck out fairly.

The fifth rolled around without any damage, and then came the sixth and the end of Mr. Wiggs. Two more bases on balls and three hits scored three more runs. Captain Davis yelled for help and brought out Tozer, who has been an onlocker at the cames.

FACTS FOR THE FANS.

Eddle Quick is slated to do the twirling for the Elders today and Hickey will do the same for the Siwashes. As both men are leading pitchers of the league a battle royal should result.

Frank McNichols showed that he still plays in the old-time form that made him such a popular favorite in Sait Lake. Fie says he would like to land in Sait Lake next year and he stands a good chance of doing so doing so.

The fielders did some great tumbling stunts trying to stop hits yesterday as they came bounding through the field. The diamond was so muddy that nearly every ball hit to the groupa resulted in a safety for the batter. On account of this condition of the field the official scorer was lenient with the fielders and base hits instead of errors were the rule.

Anderson Jooled Engel at one of his own tricks yesterday in a manner that caught the grand stand. In swinging at a ball Anderson turned clear around and before he could get straightened up Engel returned the ball to the plate to catch Anderson unawares. The Salt Lake catcher managed to get around just in time to see the play and stepping in, met the ball squarely on the nose and sent it down past third too fast for the Seattle man to handle.

one he has, and the local fans did not feel badly.

In the fourth, however, James went to the bad and went fast. After two hits had been taken away from him by Spencer and Babbett, Stanley sacrificed, advancing both runners. Wiggs took up another notch in his belt and struck Engel out.

Then came the long fellow's downfall. Three Siwashes in one, two, three order faced Wiggs and watched him try to put the ball over the plate. Wiggs was wild and allowed all three of them to walk, forcing in two runs.

Sacramento, Aug. 20.—The ten-inning game played today between the Sacramento and Seattle teams contained almost every element of excitement that comes in to make the national pastime a pleasure. There was hard bitting, fast fielding, gross errors, startling doubles in fact everything. Fisher's good luck won the game. Pitagerald retired in the fifth, and Brown twirled the game out. BURGLARS AT WORK

Three daring burglaries were committed in Ogden last night between 8 and 9 o'clock. The thieves were frightened away while in the act of breaking into the third place and escaped, leaving behind most of their plunder. The first place entered was evidently that of J. H. Spargo, the stationer. They entered at this place by a rear window, which they pulled down from the top. Mr. Spargo could not miss anything after a hasty examination last night. The thieves had located and opened an old cash drawer which contained nothing. The cash register had been left open by Mr. Spargo and also contained nothing. They passed over a lot-of valuable out glass and evidently abandoned this place as unprofitable to work.

They next tried the John A. Bayle Hardware company, getting in and taking a 1.1 of razors, knives, a chisel or two and some other criticles of hardware. They then passed to the C. A. Beglitol jewelry store and made their way into the workshop. The door leading from this into the sales room was heavily barred and while they were working to loosen the bolts Officer Meisner happened to pass along and noticed the door of the workshop open. He struck a match and heard the men move inside. He hastened to the nearest telephone and summoned help. When the officers returned the men had made good their escape, investigation showed that they had left most of their plunder, secured from Boyle's, in the Beghtol workshop.

About 1:30 o'clock this morning it was discovered that the Hub clothing store had been committed after midnight, as the officers made a tour of inspection touching this place at the time the others were discovered. It could not be ascertained whether the burglars had secured anything of value from the Hub until the proprietor could make an investigation.

Stealing Horses.

Sheriff Bailey and his deputy, Joseph Belnap, yesterday afternoon effected the capture of two boys wanted by the sheriff of Salt Lake county for the theft of a couple of horses in Salt Lake about midnight Wednesday night. The sheriff received word from Sheriff Emery about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A good description was given of the men wanted, together with the information that they had headed northward. Sheriff Bailey went south by way of the sugar factory road and Deputy Belnap by way of the Riverdale road.

Belnap struck the trail of the boys at Riverdale where they took dinner and followed it through the city, the lads turning to the esst at Twenty-eighth street and going north on Monroe avenue to Twentieth street, so as to avoid going through the business part of town. On comparing notes with Belnap later. Bailey took the motor line and rode to the Hot Springs, Belnap following the trail. The boys were intercepted by Bailey at the springs, submitted quietly to arrest and were brought back to Ogden last night. The horses were too twee to twee to twee the county jail the boys gave their names as John Orsel and Richard Baker. They state that their homes are in Salt Lake. In explanation of their conduct they said that some Mormons to get even. They stated that they were plasterers by trade and intended to go up north of Brigham City in search of work. Each was armed with a pistol strapped about his waist and each had belts of cartridges. They also had a lot of other dime novel paraphernalia such as detective badges, pocket compass and the like.
